Unfortunately, it doesn't work like that in the new system. I'll have to confer with ITSD on how to handle it.

Hi Emily,

Our subcontractor, MBCH, discharged a client, [REDACTED] and accidentally switched the education level of the client and the father of the baby. Does the new system work like the old one where you can reinstate a client and we can then discharge again with the correct information?

Thanks for your help,

Kristen
